August Events

Dear Parents,

The discount registration deadline for our second SAT class is this Monday, July 20th. There's also still time to register for our first SAT class session, which begins on August 3rd. Please see below for a link to the flyer and registration information, or download them from our website at: www.ColleGateEdge.com.

This newsletter also includes information on two other Southern California events which may interest you:

- An evening with the "Colleges That Change Lives"
- A one-day Conference on AD/HD

And, for those of you who have been asking about our practice SAT tests, see the bottom of this page for details on our August and September tests.

As always, do not hesitate to contact me at 818-761-7002 or by email if you have any questions or comments.

Best,

Colleges That Change Lives - in LA!

Colleges That Change Lives will be holding a panel discussion and college fair on Tuesday, August 4th at the Millennium Biltmore Hotel in Downtown LA.

This is a great opportunity to meet with admission officers from the schools profiled in the book "Colleges That Change Lives" by Loren Pope. There will be a 30-minute presentation followed by a college fair featuring 38 of the colleges from the book.

From the CTCL website:

"CTCL deans and directors will share with you the latest research on specific campus characteristics and learning components that lead to the most successful college experience. They will challenge you to view popular college rankings as just one measure of quality among many, and encourage you to make the college search process a well-informed journey that leads to the best possible outcome: finding the best college fit-one that could be life changing.

Immediately after the panel presentation, the college fair begins, lasting approximately 1.5 hours. Students and families will be able to collect information from and speak directly with admission representatives from the colleges and universities."

What Parents & Students are Saying:

"Your help made [our daughter] a better student...and helped her discover her talents and self worth. Her mother and I could not be happier with our decision to turn to you and your colleagues for help during this formative time in [her] life."

-La Canada Parent

"You not only helped him get better grades but I believe you helped him find his confidence, which then led him to know what he wanted and to get it!"

-Harvard-Westlake Parent

"We only wish that we would have had this experience for all of our children!"

-Crossroads Parent

"I really enjoyed showing up to tutoring...weird...I don't think any student ever expects to say those words."

-Viewpoint Student

"Thank you for everything."

-Campbell Hall Parent

CHADD Conference - Managing AD/HD

Have you always wanted to learn more about AD/HD in order to help your child, yourself, or someone else in your life? Well, this could be a great place to start!

One of the leading national organizations for AD/HD, The Children and Adults with AD/HD (CHADD), is hosting an educational conference on Saturday, August 22nd at the Sheraton Park Hotel in Anaheim.

From the CHADD website:

The one-day conference will feature some of the world's leading researchers, clinicians, and experts (usually only available at CHADD's annual conference) providing critical information about managing AD/HD that will help teachers, parents, adults, and psychologists.

Some of the topics to be covered include:

- Executive Deficits in the Classroom
- Parenting Strategies
- Diagnosis and Treatment
- Trends and Treatments
- Organizing Your Life
